SUMMER SESSION OF 1924
July 4 - August 21

A New Type of Summer School

The Summer Session has brought Middlebury College an enviable reputation for the distinctive work of its Language Schools, a reputation which has been enhanced by the Sessions of 1922 and 1923.

No efforts will be spared to make the Session of 1924 surpass the brilliant record of former Sessions, and to maintain the principles for which Middlebury stands: thorough preparation of language teachers, improved methods of teaching, mastery of the spoken and written language, and intimate knowledge of the life, customs, institutions, and history of the countries of the language studied.

Organization

The organization of these special Schools, with separate residences and dining halls for each, is designed to provide the best conditions obtainable for the intensive pursuit of the language. The language is not only studied but is constantly used. No elementary courses are offered, and, from the first, students speak the language of the school. Geography, commerce, industry, art, music, government, and institutional and social life are covered by the variety of courses offered. Native instructors are employed and the needs of every student receive attention.

Standard

The standard of work has steadily advanced in each school. Seventy-six per cent of the students enrolled in these two Schools in 1923 held baccalaureate degrees and more than forty held advanced degrees. While not exclusively graduate schools, only those undergraduates will be admitted whose qualifications are approved by Deans of the respective Schools.

Isolation

The successful application of these principles,—the housing of students apart from those using any other language; the concentration and unbroken continuity of the work of each student upon the language alone, and the careful supervision and co-ordination of courses to meet the different needs of all students, have given to the Middlebury Summer Session a wide reputation for its training in the modern languages.

A Good Investment

The value of the training is recognized by school boards, and institutions employing French and Spanish teachers, to such a degree that not infrequently they defray or contribute toward meeting the expenses of teachers attending the Middlebury Language Schools. One hundred and ninety dollars expended in attendance at a Summer Session at Middlebury has often yielded a better return to a teacher than would one thousand dollars placed to her credit in a savings bank. As compared with foreign travel, a session in Middlebury is more economical, provides courses better suited to the needs of American teachers, and gives an uninterrupted and intensive training which is not found in foreign institutions. Neither in foreign travel nor resident study abroad can the student find courses in methods comparable to those in the Middlebury Language Schools.

Location The features which make the Middlebury Language Schools unique among summer sessions are not easy to describe; to be appreciated they must be experienced. The delightful summer climate is a most valuable asset of the session, and, among the memories of students who have spent a summer on the campus of Middlebury College, there must be pictured many scenes drawn from its location in a countryside of surpassing beauty. The most favored university of a great city can never reproduce the scenery of mountains and meadows, of forests and fields, of valleys with their winding rivers, the hollows among the hills where the lakes lie, the Adirondacks, pink tipped in the morning sun, or the purple hills of the eastern range slowly darkening in the twilight. "The strength of the hills is His also."

Atmosphere The central purpose of the Schools is to make everything about the life of a student during his stay contribute as richly and as pleasantly as possible to the thing for which he came, the mastery of the language. Similarity of aim among students coming from widely separated sections of the country fosters good comradeship and an esprit de corps; while constant intercourse with instructors at the dining tables, in songs and games, on hikes and picnics, no less than in the classroom, brings both inspirational and intellectual stimulus. Any language pursued under such conditions quickly becomes a subjective element in the life of a student. A high ratio of instructors to students is maintained.

Admission and Choice of Courses

In each of the Schools students may enter such courses as they are qualified to take, without examinations and without being candidates for degrees. It should be noted, however, that the Middlebury Language Schools are, by reason of the students attending them, and the nature of the courses given, essentially graduate schools requiring the highest degree of application and study. For this reason, only those undergraduate students may be admitted whose attainments are satisfactory to the Deans of the respective Schools. To insure being properly placed in courses, students should correspond with the Dean of the School concerned.

The right is reserved to place all students in the classes best suited to their advancement, and no students in either school are allowed to pursue courses in the other except such as, by reason of their proficiency in the language of the school of registration, may be permitted to do so by mutual consent of the Deans of both Schools.

Credits

As above stated, students may enter without examination, and without being candidates for a degree; but those who desire credits must indicate that fact when they register, and, if candidates for a degree, they must present evidence of their qualifications before they will receive credits, either for baccalaureate or advanced degrees.

Not more than six credits may be gained by an undergraduate at a Summer Session, and not more than eight credits by a graduate student. No student will receive credit who has completed less than the full session (thirty classroom exercises at Middlebury, twenty in the European sections) not including examinations. (See also, pp. 22 and 39.)

Certificates Students satisfactorily completing their courses will be given a Summer Session Certificate indicating the work done. These certificates are useful evidences of professional study, and often are accepted by examiners, school boards and superintendents in lieu of examinations. No certificates will be given for attendance, and none to students who fail to complete their examinations.

The Master’s Degree Candidates for a Master’s Degree must hold a baccalaureate degree from Middlebury College or from some other college approved by the Committee on Graduate Work.

To obtain the degree of Master of Arts or Master of Science at Middlebury College, thirty credits are necessary. Twenty of the thirty credits must be obtained at Middlebury College. Thirty credits toward graduate work may be gained by proficient students in four Summer Sessions. Students with six or more credits accepted from other institutions may complete their work for the Master’s Degree in three sessions.

The Committee on Graduate Work will pass upon the credentials and courses of candidates for the Master's Degree. The approval of this Committee must be secured before credits earned at other institutions may be counted toward the Master's Degree at Middlebury. Address Professor P. C. Voter, chairman.

Students desiring to count credits taken at Middlebury toward degrees to be secured elsewhere should secure permission to do so from the institution to which they wish the credits transferred.

Degrees are conferred both at Commencement and at the Summer Session following the completion of the work. A fee of $15 is required for the final examination and diploma.

Social Activities In both the French and Spanish Schools of the Middlebury College Summer Session, where it is essential to maintain at all times the national atmosphere, the social life plays an all-important rôle. By "social life" or "social activities" is meant not only receptions, excursions, and entertainments, but also and mainly the daily routine outside of the recitation room. This social routine is so arranged as to include frequent opportunity for the students to associate with the instructors in an informal way; lively and interesting conversation during meal hours, each table being presided over by an instructor; outdoor readings of literary gems, story telling, etc., songs, games, plays, etc.; Sunday services in the language of each School; informal discussions of subjects of interest to teachers; weekly dances or receptions; excursions, hikes, etc., and a final entertainment.

Students who can play such instruments as the violin, guitar, mandolin, etc., are requested to bring them so that they may take part in the entertainments.

Inasmuch as each School has to defray its own expenses for entertainments, it has been customary for students to contribute a small sum (about $1 for the entire Session) toward such expenses. This contribution is entirely voluntary.

Out-of-Door Life

No college in the East offers more attractive surroundings than are found at Middlebury in summer. The climate is delightful and the program of studies is so arranged as to leave much time afternoons and Saturdays free for recreation. Recitations are conducted out of doors so far as practicable. Groups of students frequently spend an afternoon at the lakeside or in the mountain forests. Party lunches are provided at a reasonable charge. Among the most enjoyable features of a summer’s sojourn at Middlebury are the camp-fire suppers and informal picnics of these friendly groups. Good automobile roads make accessible a large number of interesting places within a radius of a day’s trip from Middlebury. Crown Point, Lake Champlain, Fort Ticonderoga, and Lake George may all be visited in one day by automobile. Motor boat trips to Lake Champlain may be made from Long Point at moderate cost.

Tennis Courts

The college tennis courts, of which six additional ones were completed, are reserved for the use of those students and instructors of the Summer Session who pay a fee of $3.50 for the entire Session. The courts reserved to the French and Spanish Schools are subject to the regulation and control of the Director of the Romance Language Schools.

Offices

The Summer Session enjoys the full use of the buildings and grounds of the College. The Director's Office is on the top floor of the Old Chapel, the central building of the Old Stone Row on the lower campus. The office of the Director of the Romance Language Schools is in South Painter Hall, Room 3. The office of the Dean of the French School is Room 1, south entrance, Painter Hall. The office of the Dean of the Spanish School is Room 3, South Painter Hall.

Board and Room

Life is made as attractive as possible in all the halls of residence. The college farm, dairy, and garden are drawn upon for fresh and seasonable supplies, and it would be hard to duplicate at any summer resort, at much greater cost, the housing and dining accommodations provided. Arrangements for personal laundry may be made, after arrival, with the matrons of the halls of residence. Bedding and linen are furnished by the College. For rates for the French School, see p. 24; for the Spanish School, see p. 43.

The Opening of the Session

All students should arrive in season to begin work at the opening of the Session. The French and Spanish Schools will open July 4 and continue until August 21, 1924. August 19-20 will be taken in both Schools for the final examinations. Classes will be conducted as heretofore five days in the week.

The French and Spanish Houses of residence will open to receive students on Thursday, July 3, and dinner will be served at six o'clock. No guests can be received earlier. Both houses will close after breakfast, Friday, August 22, and no guests can be accommodated after this time.

Opening

On Sunday afternoon, July 6, at five o'clock, the formal opening of the Session will be held at Mead Memorial Chapel. The students of all Schools are requested to be present at these exercises. President Moody will welcome the students and introduce the new Dean of the French School and the visiting professors from France and Spain.

Registration of Students

It is important that immediately upon arrival students should consult their Dean in regard to the definite selection of courses. For this purpose the Deans will be at their respective offices from 9 a.m. to 12 m. and from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., Friday and Saturday, July 4 and 5. Immediately after consulting their Deans students should register at the office of the Secretary of the Summer Session, Old Chapel.

Advance Registration

Since accommodations are limited, it is advisable for reservations of board and room to be made as early as possible. Tentative reservations will be made until May 1 without charge. A reservation fee of $10 will be required on May 1; no rooms will be held after May 1 for which this deposit has not been made, and no refund of the registration fee will be made after June 1. The reservation fee will be credited upon the student's account at the opening of the Summer Session, when the balance of the account is payable.
As in 1923, a section of the French School will be conducted in France during the summer of 1924. The School will be located in Paris, conducted on the plan of the French and Spanish Schools at Middlebury, and will be officered and taught by persons familiar with the purpose and methods of the Middlebury Schools. The courses of study will be carefully planned to meet the needs of American teachers. Twenty days of resident study will be provided in each school and this will be supplemented by many visits to points of interest. Work done in the foreign schools by properly qualified candidates will be accepted for credit toward the Master’s Degree at Middlebury.

The School in Paris will open July 16 and will end with examinations on the 13th and 14th of August. After August 15 this school will be conducted through provincial France, Normandy, and Brittany.

Special circulars on the foreign school will be mailed upon request.
THE FRENCH SCHOOL

THE INSTRUCTING STAFF

Middlebury College has secured the services of an eminent French educator, Professor Jean Déquaire, of the Lycée Voltaire, as Dean of the French School, who will be assisted by leading native teachers, specialists in the courses entrusted to them.

The visiting professor from Paris, during the 1924 Session, will be M. René Lalou, who is regarded in French literary circles as the highest authority on the contemporary literature of France.

The faculty for the Summer Session of 1924 is made up as follows:

Use of English  No student will be admitted to the school unless willing to promise to use no English while in attendance. This rule goes into force from the time of arrival of the student. Students may, of course, use English in the shops of the village, and also in the Director's office, but even in these places they are not supposed to use English among themselves. This rule holds good for picnics and excursions. It is understood that each student pledges his or her word of honor to observe this rule of no English and it is with this assumption that the Dean admits each student to the School. The Dean, and the Dean only, may grant temporary release from this rule, upon occasions which may warrant it. Students are asked to refrain from reading newspapers in English, and they should not have such newspapers sent them from their home town or city. French newspapers will be provided here. The Dean reserves the right to dismiss students who wilfully break this rule, which has become a cherished and unique tradition of the School.

Books  Books not published in this country may be obtained from Zabala and Maurin, 37 West 47th Street, New York City. After the opening of the Session, books will be on sale at the College Bookstore. It is desirable that students should provide themselves with an all-French dictionary. Protestant students are also requested to bring with them a French Bible. The edition by Louis Segond is suggested.

Entertainments The evening entertainments in Pearsons Hall will be continued. There will be a general regular meeting every Sunday evening and all students are requested to make a special effort to be present at this Session. This is called "the Dean’s night."

The regular literary and social assemblies will be held on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings. These meetings are opened with singing and students should come provided with the song book entitled "Chants de France," by Jameson and Heacox, published by D. C. Heath and Company.

Friday evening will be given over to dancing. Outsiders who do not speak French will not be admitted to these dances.

Students talented along artistic lines are invited to bring their French music and musical instruments with them.

The first official assembly of the French School will be held in the Social Hall of Pearson's on Sunday evening, July 6, at seven o'clock. All students are required to attend.

Plans are now under way for the laying of the cornerstone of the new Maison Francaise on July 14, the French national holiday, with imposing ceremonies. President Moody has invited M. Gaston Liebert, Minister Plenipotentiary from France in New York, to be the principal speaker on this occasion.

Chapel Services Chapel services in French will be held, as in the past, every Sunday morning at eleven o’clock in the Mead Memorial Chapel. These services are not obligatory, but any and all students interested in French are invited to attend. Catholic students are expected to attend mass at the Catholic church, situated near the college campus.

Correspondence regarding rooms, tuition, etc., should be addressed to Miss Helen Blanchard, Secretary of the Summer Session, Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont.

Correspondence concerning courses and admission to the School should be addressed to the Director of the Romance Language Schools, Professor J. Moreno-Lacalle, Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont.

All questionnaires should be returned to Professor Lacalle, whose office is in South Painter Hall, Room 3.

Credits

Two credits will be allowed for each course. Courses marked $c$ count toward the Master's degree and $b$ for the Bachelor's degree.

Examinations

The last three days of the French School are devoted to the final examinations. They are required only of students who desire credits, certificates, or recommendations, but it is advisable that all should take them.

The French Houses

Pearsons Hall is a large white marble structure of colonial style, built in 1911 as a hall of residence for women. It is located on a commanding height overlooking the surrounding country in all directions. Battell Cottage is adjacent, with rooms and a large dining hall accommodating more than a hundred. Ample, shaded grounds adjoin Battell Cottage and Pearsons Hall, and the latter has a large social hall. Chairs and benches placed on the lawn and under the trees provide students pleasant opportunities for reading and study out of doors. La Maison Française and Hillside Cottage are but a short distance away. Starr Hall, a handsome old stone dormitory of colonial style, furnishes convenient quarters on the lower campus. Each suite in this hall accommodating two students contains a commodious study and separate bedrooms. The building is equipped with toilets and showers.

The French Houses are provided with books, pictures, periodicals, and newspapers. Officers of the Bureau of Schools, France, co-operate with the Dean of the French School in securing materials illustrative of French life and art. The French teachers are in charge of the tables in the dining halls, and all students have an opportunity to hear, speak, and think French continuously throughout the Summer Session.

Lectures and readings outside the regular courses are given by members of the staff; there are also French plays, musicals, and dances. Social gatherings, illustrated lectures on French life and art, dramatics, reading of French poetry, and singing of French songs will occupy the evenings.

Special Opportunities for Teachers

The attention of teachers is called to the fact that the Middlebury French School is now in operation throughout the year. Students may enter in July, September, or February. This School offers unusual advantages to those desirous of perfecting themselves in the French language and literature. The rule of speaking only in French is maintained throughout the school year.
So many demands for good teachers reach the School that it would be an investment for teachers or prospective teachers to take six months or a year in the School in order to obtain its certificate.

Tuition and Fees

The cost of service and the increased cost of securing instructors of the high standards demanded by the French School have necessitated another slight increase in rates. No appropriation is provided for carrying on the work of the Summer Session, and it must be self-sustaining. At the present rates, student expenses will be found lower than in the large city universities. Expenses are payable at the opening of the Session.

In the French School, rates vary according to the houses of residence and single or double occupancy of rooms. The rate of registration, tuition, board, and double room is as follows: Pearsons, $175; Maison Française, Battell, and Hillside, $170; Starr Hall (two rooms en suite for two), $170; Painter (north and south), en suite, $175; and Painter (middle), en suite, $170; with single rooms in Pearsons Hall, $205; in Maison Française, Battell, Hillside, $190. Persons rooming outside will be boarded at the French dining halls at $10.50 per week. Persons rooming and boarding outside, and attending recitations and social events, will pay registration and tuition fees only, amounting to $75.

A room reservation of $10, payable on or before May 1, is necessary to hold rooms beyond that date. Rooms thus held may be cancelled before June 1, without loss of fee; no reservation fees are returnable after June 1. Owing to fixed obligations for service, instruction, and maintenance charges, persons leaving the School before the close of the Session must not expect reimbursement of charges for rooms or tuition for the unconsumed time.

Opportunities for Service  It is desirable that all waiters and waitresses in the French dining hall be able to speak French and in order to secure such a staff we offer opportunity to a limited number of students to earn both board and room in return for this service.
THE SPANISH SCHOOL

THE INSTRUCTING STAFF

Professor Moreno-Lacalle, who since the organization of the Spanish School in 1917 has been its Dean, will, as in the previous sessions, have the collaboration of eminent native educators, who have been chosen not only on account of their achievements in the field of Spanish, but also because of their special training in the subjects of the courses entrusted to them. THE COURSES OF STUDY

No beginners' courses are given. Those offered are designed for teachers of Spanish and students who have attained some proficiency in the language. These courses are organized and conducted in such a manner as (1) to carry the student's knowledge far beyond that gained through the ordinary college courses, and (2) to give the student absolute confidence in his or her ability to use the language. Ear and speech undergo constant training and special emphasis is laid on correct pronunciation.
and on acquiring fluency and ease in conversation. The full list of courses is as follows:

ADVANCED COURSES

Laboratory Course

1. Synthetic Spanish Phonetics, b, c.
   A theoretical and practical study of Spanish sounds in combination, with daily drill in coalition, stress, intonation, rhythm, and expression. The dictaphone will be used in connection with this course, not only for the analytical study of the grouping of sounds and the intonation curves, but also for the purpose of recording the students' pronunciation and observing their mistakes and their progress. The number of students in this course is strictly limited to fifteen. An extra laboratory fee of $10 per student will be charged.

   Daily at 8:00
   Professor Moreno-Lacalle

   Text book: Phonetic pamphlets by Professor Moreno-Lacalle.

Use of English  No student will be admitted to the School unless willing to promise to use no English while in attendance. This rule goes into force from the time of arrival of the student. Students may, of course, use English in the shops of the village, and also in the Director’s office, but even in these places they are not supposed to use English among themselves. This rule holds good for picnics and excursions. It is understood that each student pledges his or her word of honor to observe this rule of no English and it is with this assumption that the Dean admits each student to the School. The Dean, and the Dean only, may grant temporary release from this rule, upon occasions which may warrant it. Students are asked to refrain from reading newspapers in English, and they should not have such newspapers sent them from their home town or city. Spanish newspapers will be provided here. The students are requested to subscribe to “La Prensa” of New York for the period of the Session. The Dean reserves the right to dismiss students who wilfully break this rule, which has become a cherished and unique tradition of the School.

Credits  Credits for the above courses will be allowed as follows: Courses 1 to 15 inclusive, two credits each excepting Course 11; for Course 9 and lecture courses 16 to 19, one credit will be allowed for any two together, or two for all five together. Courses marked $c$ count toward the Master’s Degree; and $b$, toward the Bachelor’s Degree.

Examinations  The last three days of the Spanish School are devoted to the final examinations. They are required only of students who desire credits, certificates, or recommendations, but it is advisable that all should take them.

Books
Books not published in this country may be obtained from Zabala and Maurin, 37 West 47th Street, New York City. After the opening of the session, books will be on sale at the College Bookstore.

Classroom Work
The work in the classroom is so planned and conducted as to stimulate the self-activity of the students, each and every one of whom is given frequent opportunity to speak. In the conversational courses the burden of the conversation is carried by the students, the instructor's task being confined to a brief talk in the beginning of each recitation, and to directing the discussion, correcting errors and requiring every member of the class to take due part in the discussion.

Social Activities
In the Middlebury Spanish School, where it is essential to maintain at all times the national atmosphere, the social life plays an all-important rôle. By "social life" or "social activities" is meant, not only receptions, excursions, and entertainments, but also and mainly the daily routine outside the recitation room. This social routine is so arranged as to include:

(1) Sufficient time and frequent opportunity for the students to meet and associate with the instructors in an informal way.

(2) A certain number of hours a day when the students can hear Spanish spoken idiomatically and when they will be corrected in such mistakes as they may make in their familiar conversation.
(3) Lively and interesting conversation during meal hours, each table being presided over by an instructor.

(4) Outdoor readings of Spanish literary gems, story telling, etc.

(5) Spanish songs, games, plays, etc.

(6) Sunday services in Spanish.

(7) Informal meetings for discussion in Spanish of subjects of interest to students.

(8) Weekly dances or receptions.

(9) Excursions, hikes, etc.

(10) A final performance is given in the last week consisting of Spanish musical and vaudeville numbers and a Spanish play.

For the regular and periodical carrying out of these activities a weekly program is posted on Saturday morning of the preceding week, in accordance with the following outline:

Daily Routine

Social Activities

On Sundays, at 7:00 p.m., divine services in Spanish, with singing of Spanish hymns, are held at Mead Memorial Chapel.

Every afternoon, from 5:00 to 6:00, outdoor meetings are held for the reading by members of the staff of Spanish literary and poetical selections.

The daily evening program begins promptly at 7:00 with the lecture assigned for the day, the functions for each day of the week being as follows:

Mondays: Students' meetings, presided over by an instructor, for the discussion of subjects of interest.

Tuesdays: Chorus singing by the students of Spanish national and folk songs.

Wednesdays: Spanish parlor or open-air games.

Thursdays: Spanish entertainments, the programs consisting of musical numbers, recitations of poems, dramatized anecdotes, short plays, etc.
Fridays: Informal dances.
Saturdays: Excursions and hikes in groups of students.

The "Juegos Florales" The Spanish "juegos florales" (floral games), dating from the times of the Provenzal troubadours, is a literary feast held annually in different cities of Spain for awarding prizes to the best poetical works submitted at previously held competitions. The first prize consists of a natural flower which is presented at the "juegos" by the presiding "queen" selected by the winner. The "queen" makes the presentation of the prizes from her throne of flowers, surrounded by her "corte de amor" (court of love), and after the speech by the "sostendor" of the "juegos."

The Literary Competition With that end in view, a Spanish literary competition will take place at the Spanish School, calling for the following works: 1st, a lyric poem, meter and subject to be chosen by the competitor; 2d, a short story in prose on a Spanish legendary subject, not exceeding 1,000 words; 3d, an essay discussing the advantages of the Spanish language from the cultural, social, and commercial points of view not exceeding 2,000 words. The conditions of the contest will be announced in due time. The contest closes at midnight, July 24.

Illustrative Material For the convenience of the students in the Spanish School a section is reserved for their use in the College Library. In the Social Hall of the Spanish House, there is also a supply of the best Spanish periodicals, and collections of photographs, stereopticon views, pictures, and other material illustrative of the life, industries, art, and geography of Spain and Latin America.

Opportunities for Service  It is desirable that all waiters and waitresses in the Spanish dining hall be able to speak Spanish, and in order to secure such a staff we offer opportunity to a limited number of students to earn board in return for this service.

Tuition and Fees  Although the cost of maintaining the Spanish School has materially increased, only such advances in rates have been made as are absolutely necessary.

A uniform charge of $190 covers registration, tuition, board, and room, and the $10 deposit for advance registration is credited on the student's account. This rate is made for the full period of the School, July 4 to August 21. Persons rooming outside will be boarded at the Spanish dining hall at $10.50 per week. Persons rooming and boarding outside, and attending recitations and social events, will pay registration and tuition fees, amounting to $75. Owing to fixed obligations for service, instruction, and maintenance charges, persons leaving the School before the close of the Session must not expect reimbursement of charges for rooms or tuition for the unconsumed time. Expenses are payable at the opening of the Session.

Correspondence regarding courses should be addressed to the Dean of the Spanish School, Professor J. Moreno-Lacalle, Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont.

Correspondence regarding rooms and rates should be addressed to Miss Helen W. Blanchard, Secretary of the Summer Session.
The work of the Summer Session of Middlebury College is unique in that it is wholly conducted in special schools, thereby securing qualitative standards impossible in the conventional and un-specialized type of summer session. In addition to the Schools of French and Spanish described in this bulletin, there are conducted a School of French in Paris, and the following special schools at Middlebury and Bread Loaf:

THE SCHOOL OF ENGLISH
THE SCHOOL OF CHEMISTRY AND THE SCHOOL OF MUSIC

Special circulars of each of these schools will be sent upon request.
